FREE TOLL IN CANAL

Senate Passes Bill Strongly
Favoring American Ships
After Bitter Fight

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The Panama Canal administration bill providing for passage to American ships, prohibiting railroad-owned vessels from using the waterway, and authorizing the establishment of a one-man government when the canal is completed, was passed by the Senate last night, by a vote of 47 to 15.

The provision for free tolls, which was fought out in the Senate Wednesday, was endorsed again just before the passage of the measure.

Attached to the bill as it passed the Senate were two important amendments directed at trust or railroad control of steamship lines.

The first, by Senator Reed, would prohibit ships owned by an illegal industrial combination from using the canal; and the second, by Senator Bourne, would force railroads to give up water lines that might otherwise be their competitors, if it were proved they were stifling competition.

The bill passed, it would permit American coastwise vessels to pass through the canal free without conditions, while American foreign trade ships might pass through free if their owners agreed to sell the vessels to the United States at a fair price in time of war or emergency.

In the form in which it returns to the House, the bill adds to the general scheme for operating and governing the Panama Canal, provisions for the admission to American registry of any foreign-built ships owned by Americans, provided they are operated wholly in the foreign trade.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 10.—"Germany, so far as I am aware, has no concern in the controversy between America and England regarding the Panama canal tolls matter," said Dr. George Bartholomew, American correspondent of the Cologne Gazette. He declared there is no reason for German concern although he believes the Hay-Pauncefote treaty prevents discrimination against the British.

IS JEOPARDIZED BY CLERICAL ERROR

Secretary of State's Certificate
Does Not Show Evans'
Party Affiliation

WILLIAMS TAKES IMMEDIATE STEPS

It is Probable That a Clerk in Sacramento Failed to Put the Words Down

County Clerk Williams this afternoon did a lot of telegraphing to straighten out a tangle that jeopardizes the appearance of Samuel C. Evans' name on the Republican ballot at the primaries on September 3. An error has been made either in the affidavit of party affiliation filed by Evans with the Secretary of State or by a clerk in the office of the Secretary of State in certifying Evans' district and party affiliation to the county clerk of this county.

Under the state law, the candidates for nominations for congress, state senator and assemblyman must file their nomination papers with the secretary of state. They first pass through the hands of the county clerk, or, when the district is comprised of more than one county, possibly through the hands of several county clerks, so that the signatures may be certified to. These nomination petitions are then sent to the Secretary of State, and the candidate must file with the Secretary of State an affidavit concerning his candidacy.

When the proper time arrives the Secretary of State must certify to each county clerk a list of all nominations made. From this list the county clerk must print the ballots and publish certain notices. He has no other record than this to go by, and the law specifically states that he must follow this certificate.

Because the law is very specific and plain upon the point, the Evans incident is of importance.

The certificates arrived this morning, and for some reason it failed to give Evans' district or party.

It seems that there is a state law that makes it necessary for congressional candidates to appear on the ballot in accordance with the time of filing their papers. S. C. Evans' name was written first, and the words "Eleventh district," and "Republican" appeared. The name and all that was written with it were carefully crossed out and cancelled, and that made Lewis R. Kirby of San Diego head the list as a Republican candidate.

Below Kirby's name appears S. C. Evans' name and address, but in the blank for the district and party nothing appears. Whether the omission is an oversight on the part of the clerk in the office of the Secretary of State or is because of some clerical error in Evans' affidavit cannot be determined here.

Williams' duty under the law is too plain to allow controversy. He must follow the instructions of the Secretary of State. One instruction is that he publish the list with the party affiliation of each candidate. He must also print the ballots. Under the certificate received by Williams, Evans' name certainly could not appear on the Republican ballot.

Williams had every reason to believe that Evans' name should go down on the Republican ballot, and he was confident that some error was back of the failure to certify Evans' party affiliation. Williams immediately took steps to straighten the matter out. Though any delay will work a hardship upon the clerk's office, which has a large amount of work to attend to in preparation for the election aside from its regular duties, Williams took the steps to see to it that no injustice be done anyone. He telegraphed to the Secretary of State, explaining that there was nothing on the certificate to show Evans' district or party. Owing to the fact that Saturday afternoon is a holiday, the telegram may not bring results before Monday. It is possible that a court order will be needed to make the proper correction.

The certificate received by Williams shows:

For Congress—Lewis R. Kirby, Republican; Samuel C. Evans, Republican; William Kettner, Democrat; Noble A. Richardson, Socialist; Helen M. Stoddard, Prohibitionist.

State Senator—John N. Anderson, Republican; Charles C. Chapman, Republican; Louis Paul Hart, Democrat; George Bauer, Socialist; F. D. Ashleigh, Prohibitionist.

Assemblyman—A. W. Rutan, Republican; Hans V. Weisel, Republican; I. D. Miller, Democrat; J. H. Stewart, Socialist; W. T. Mitchell, Prohibitionist.

Supervisor, 1st District—W. L. Grubb, Republican; H. E. Smith, Republican; Olive L. Edgerton, Socialist.

Supervisor, 3rd District—W. A. Goodwin, Republican; William Schumacher, Republican; J. H. Brunworth, Democrat; V. U. Simson, Democrat; W. G. Loughboro, Socialist.

NARROW ESCAPE AT SANTA FE CROSSING

Horse Was Killed and Thrown 100 Feet—Buggy But Slightly Damaged

The Santa Fe crossing on Fruit street came near being the scene of a tragedy yesterday. The escape of the near-victim, James M. Luther, could not have been any closer. The horse that he was driving was torn from the buggy, and the train threw the animal 100 feet. Luther sat in the buggy, and not until the last coach had gone by was the old man certain that he would not be dragged under the wheels or hurled to his death. He was too much frightened to move.

Luther is 89 years old, lacking but a few weeks of being 90. He is absolutely deaf, and is partially blind in one eye. The old man lives with his son near El Modena, and, although his son has argued repeatedly against it, often drives into Santa Ana alone.

Yesterday afternoon the elder Luther started for Santa Ana and was driving in on Fruit street when he approached the Santa Fe crossing. He did not see the train until his horse was on the tracks. Probably the man became confused. At any rate, the horse stopped, and Luther tried to back the horse off the tracks. The horse would not back, and the engine, which was going at a high rate of speed, considering that the crossing is inside the city limits, struck the horse. The harness broke and the shaft nearest the engine parted in the middle. The buggy was not dragged against the train is remarkable.

The horse was thrown into the air by the impact, and a second time the engine struck the animal, and tossed him to one side of the tracks, mangled and broken about as badly as a horse could be mangled and broken.

Luther sat spell-bound while the train was passing. Mr. Cox, who saw the accident, stated that his own opinion was that the horse was startled by the swiftly moving coaches and any second the buggy might roll into one of them and the buggy and man be hurled off the road.

"I was mighty glad when that last coach got by," said Luther in talking about the matter after it was all over. The train, which arrives here at 2:18 p. m., stopped and backed to the crossing, and the trainmen tried to get the old man to tell them his name. He could not hear, and about all they could get out of him was the repeated statement: "You killed my horse."

Mrs. N. Wineteer was passing in a buggy. She knew the old man, and gave him a name to the conductor. She took Luther into her buggy, carried him to her home and later to Luther's home at El Modena, where nothing was known of the accident until Mrs. Wineteer arrived with the old man, who had experienced what was undoubtedly the narrowest escape of his long life.

Yesterday afternoon as the 4:03 train was coming in there was a rather close shave for a woman and little girl driving a buggy across the track. They apparently paid no attention to the ringing of the warning bell, to a call to them to stop from a bystander, or the whistle of the fast-moving train. The horse jogged across the tracks as quietly as though there was not a train in a million miles. Had he slowed up in coming onto the crossing, as many horses do, the rig could hardly have escaped being struck.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE BUILDING FAILURE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—The first steps toward a grand jury investigation of the affairs of the Continental Building and Loan Association, alleged to be insolvent, came today when Grand Jury Foreman Dumbrell conferred with Judge Graham, who yesterday granted an injunction preventing Walker from assuming charge of the institution until a hearing Monday before Judge Seawell. According to Dumbrell the investigation will be deep.

Admitting the temporary restraining order he issued to prevent Building and Loan Commissioner Walker from taking possession of the Continental Building and Loan Association was inadvertently issued, Judge Graham, on petition of the attorney general, has vacated his action. Graham explained that the court has no power to stay the hand of administrative state officers.

FIRST SUGAR BEETS OF SEASON SLICED AT THE BIG NEW FACTORY TODAY

Splendid Plant Ready For Its First Campaign—Capacity Is 600 Tons Daily—Factory Is in Charge of Experienced
Sugar Men

This morning the knives of the Santa Ana Co-operative Sugar company were set to work on the first sugar beets harvested this season, and with that the actual work of making $1,500,000 worth of beets raised in this county into sugar was begun. The sugar beets are to go to five factories in this county, two of which, the Holly at Huntington Beach and the Anaheim at Anaheim, enter upon their second campaign, the Santa Ana Co-operative upon its first campaign. The Los Alamitos factory has been long established, and the Southern California at Santa Ana is next in order of establishment.

By the end of next week all five factories will be at work. Today, however, marked the beginning of the first season of the new sugar factory at Dyer station on the Southern Pacific line to Newport Beach, three miles and a half from Santa Ana, less than a mile from the big plant of the Southern California Sugar Company at Delhi.

The Santa Ana Co-operative Company has a splendid, modern plant, with a capacity of slicing and making into sugar 600 tons of sugar beets daily. The contract for the main building was held by the Dyer Company of Ohio, one of the best sugar factory builders in the world. Under the contract with the Santa Ana Co-operative Company the factory must be operated until it is demonstrated to the satisfaction of the sugar company that it is up to capacity. That demonstration will consist of attaining and maintaining the guaranteed capacity of 600 tons per day. The builder and the sugar company are thoroughly satisfied with the tests so far made, and are certain that as soon as the sugar beets arrive in sufficient quantities the full capacity will be proven. Within ten days the factory will be receiving its 600 tons daily.

It was first planned to start the campaign Monday, but owing to the fact that there were so many beets ready for slicing, the management three days ago concluded to begin operations today.

During the season the new plant will slice between 50,000 and 60,000 tons of sugar beets. Tests of beets so far made indicate that the percentage of saccharine matter is satisfactory. Under the contracts that the growers have with the various factories in this county, growers will receive as a rule seventy-five cents per ton more than last year. The price last year was $4.50 per ton for sugar beets testing fourteen per cent, with thirty cents per ton added for each one per cent above fourteen per cent. This year the price is $5 per ton with twenty-five cents per ton added for hauling under certain conditions.

A Big Institution
Like the other sugar plants, the Santa Ana Co-operative is a big institution. During the campaign, which may last 100 days, about 175 men will be employed. Of these three-fourths are whites. Most of the employees live at Tustin, Orange, on the San Joaquin

ENTHUSIASM IS CREATED BY NOMINATION OF JOHNSON

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—Now that the national convention of the Progressive party has so signally honored California and recognized the state's leadership in Progressivism by nominating for the office of vice-president our governor, Hiram W. Johnson, the campaign will be pushed by the Roosevelt forces with renewed vigor and redoubled energy. For the first time in its history California is given an opportunity to elect one of its citizens to the second highest office in the land. Hiram W. Johnson, proclaimed throughout the United States as an ideal leader, should and will have the united support of the voters of the Golden State.

It must be remembered by voters that, while the Progressive party has been launched and its ticket named, the primary law compels procedure, at the coming primary, under the old party designations. The contest, therefore, in the Republican primary, will be between the Reactionary and Progressive elements, and it will hinge upon the nomination of candidates for the legislature.

If the Progressives nominate a majority of the legislative candidates, the result will be the selection of Roosevelt and Johnson electors.

The Reactionaries nominate a majority of the legislative candidates, the result will be the selection of Taft and Sherman electors.

The reason for this is that the Republican legislative candidates, nominated at the primary, will meet at Sacramento on September 24th to CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 10.—Reports here state that the towns of Tschanak, Kallenski and Callipoli have been destroyed in an earthquake in which many perished. Villages along the Sea of Marmora were badly shaken.

There were heavy shocks here, but no fatalities. The first news of interior damage was received when exhausted refugees arrived at Stamboul. Troops have been sent to the stricken cities and towns.

Tchorda in the Adrianople district, population 10,000, was destroyed by fire following the tremor. Callipoli, at the northwest entrance to the Dardanelles, has a population of 3000, and Tchalek Kalesai 10,000. It is impossible yet to learn the correct number of fatalities.

HIGH OFFICIAL IS UNDER SUSPICION

Charged With Hiding Men
Badly Wanted in Probe of Rosenthal Case

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—That a high police official, who fears further exposure as a result of the Rosenthal murder, and the gambling graft scandals following, is hiding "Gyp" the Blood, Horowitz and "Lefty" Louie Rosenberg, is the statement today of District Attorney Whitman, who promises sensational developments within forty-eight hours.

Horowitz and Rosenberg were alleged to be two of the occupants of the automobile carrying Rosenthal's murderers. The suspected police official will probably go before the grand jury Monday.

Arrangements have been completed for a mass meeting at Cooper Union, when a cessation of police graft will be demanded.

ROOSEVELT ADMITS DEBT TO DEMOCRATS

Says Progressives Took Good
Ideas For Their Platform,
But Left Crazy Ones

OYSTER HAY, Aug. 10.—Colonel Roosevelt admitted today that many planks in the Progressive platform are of Democratic origin. When his attention was called to Bryan's statement that the Progressives had stolen their good planks from the Democrats, he said:

"Of course we've stolen the ideas of the Democrats; those that are good, but not those fit for a lunatic asylum."

Discussing the negro problem, Roosevelt said a majority of the people fail to understand that it is a state and not a national question. He declared that Lincoln settled it as a state problem, and that within ten years the people will see the wisdom of the Progressive plan of settlement.

NOT DEAD BY A GOOD DEAL

Former Anaheim Man Writes a Letter Asking For $1000
From Old Estate

Anaheim Plain Dealer: Beat this and you will go some: Sought in vain, mourned as dead, legally passed upon as dead—now living and claiming $1,000 due him as his share in an estate that has been distributed and legally closed. Moreover, he is very likely to get the money. Only an Anaheim could make a record like that.

The man in question is Bruno Korn, and the estate involved is that of the late F. A. Korn, his uncle. Bruno Korn lived here between the years 1875-77. He is a brother of the well known Corona rancher, also formerly of this city. In '77 he left for the middle west. Later he was thought to be in Alaska. All trace of him was subsequently lost. At the time of the death of F. A. Korn it was found that he had left property of value of about $1,000 to Bruno Korn. F. C. Spencer, attorney and administrator for the Korn estate, made an effort to locate Bruno, advertising in various papers in localities where it was thought he might have been and opening a considerable correspondence on the subject, but to no avail.

Under the California law a man is presumed dead after silence, absence and unknown whereabouts of seven years. This law applied to the case of Bruno Korn, and the administrator closed up the estate. It was distributed according to the terms of the will among relatives in this country, Australia and Germany. From these there is now due, and in a likelihood will be made, return of $1,000, payable to Bruno Korn, of Templeton, Oregon, from which point a letter was received from him on Monday by Attorney F. C. Spencer, stating that he had just learned of the death of his uncle and that he was a beneficiary under the will. Mr. Spencer has taken the matter up and the necessary steps in unwinding previous legal action are now under way.

ANOTHER HANDSOME NEW HOME FOR NORTH MAIN STREET

Dr. W. A. Flood has purchased from Dr. J. W. Shaul the fine building lot on the northwest corner of Eighteenth and Main streets, and will at once built thereon a handsome two-story home.

Dr. Shaul bought this lot something like a year ago from A. J. Crookshank, intending to build upon it a home for himself, but having decided not to build for the present he let the lot go at a substantial advance in price. This lot is 63x153 and the consideration in the transfer from Shaul to Flood is understood to be $2250, or a little more than $34 a front foot. This is a bargain for Flood at that, for all other vacant property on North Main, within a block or two of Eighteenth is held at $40 a front foot.

Dr. Flood is the gentleman who bought Dr. Hervey's dental office and practice when the latter went into the California National Bank.

HIS LECTURE INTERESTING

Professor Declares Radical Reform in National Monetary System is Needed

An interesting and instructive lecture was given last night to an audience of about fifty men and women, by Prof. Murray S. Wildman, secretary of the National Citizens' League. The meeting was called to order by L. L. Shaw, who is secretary of the local branch of the league.

He severely criticized the present banking system. He said that the demands of business require a radical reform.

The speaker pointed out that the United States is the only nation in the world save a few antiquated principalities, where a centralized banking system does not exist, and periodic business panics he attributes largely to this fact.

There has never been a banking expert who has criticized the centralized feature, he asserted, yet this country adheres to its antiquated arrangement of national banks, each being required to invest in unproductive government bonds and government gold, in turn, being stored away in vaults, which ties up the cash of the country—a system which was created by the exigent conditions of fifty years ago.

A central banking agency, he pointed out, would be able to regulate the movement of gold from one country to another. Under present conditions, when there is a slight money stringency in Europe, the Bank of England can raise the rate on gold, and bring gold from the markets of the world. Then Germany raises the rate, through its central bank, and the gold seeks a market there.

"This country is in the helpless position of a great sleeping monster that must supply the demands of the whole world. It does not matter what our balance of trade may be, the absence of a centralized banking system permits the other countries to draw the gold from us, and we can get it in times of a stringency by paying a high rate of interest."

The arrangement for the deposit of the funds of the Government, Professor Wildman contended, is one of the most disturbing factors in the business of America. The subtreasury deposit system, whereby the Secretary of the Treasury can arbitrarily place a part of the reserve funds of the Government in some of the banks of the country, under given restrictions, is very unsatisfactory, and leads to complaints of favoritism.

The speaker urged that citizens take a greater interest in banking and currency reform, as it is only in this way he contended that Congress will take the necessary steps to reorganize the system, and thus place business in this country on a more firm basis, and prevent the periodic money panics, which are felt in all lines of trade. He urged that citizens ask their Congressmen for a copy of the last report of the monetary commission, which gives valuable information, and the sending, he asserted, would show the interest of the public, and might hasten much needed reform.

Professor Wildman was formerly head of the department of economics of Northwestern University, and is the new professor of economics at Stanford University. He has made an exhaustive study of the United States banking system, covering many years, and is known as an authority on the subject.

A BIG ENGINE FOR ORANGE HAS ARRIVED

Orange News: The city's big Corliss cross compound pumping engine, for which a contract was signed April 5, has arrived. It is in the cars at the Santa Fe yard, awaiting to be transferred to the new power house, where it will be set up.

The engine cost $6368. It will measure over all, when set up, 26 feet 10 inches in length by 11 feet in width. It will weigh almost 70,000 pounds, and its fly-wheel measuring 10 feet in diameter will weigh 12,000 pounds.

This big machine when in operation will pump 2,000,000 gallons of water in twenty-four hours. It pumps a 50-pound pressure into the mains for ordinary use, and in case of fire will pump 100 pounds. With this giant hammering at the mains in case of a fire, and with the new system of water pipes carrying the water to the heart of trouble, the city will be well provided for in case of fire.

A change in the ownership of the Coltrane & Harman blacksmith shop on North Glassell street was announced yesterday. Frank Harman, the well known blacksmith of McPherson, has purchased the interests of John Coltrane and Gus Harman. He took charge of the business this morning.

Mr. Harman formerly owned the McPherson blacksmith shop and has a reputation as an expert workman while his wide acquaintance will be of material advantage to his business here. Coltrane & Harman have conducted the business which they have just sold with marked success for the past ten months, and have made many friends in a business way. It is announced that the same working force will be retained in the shop by the new proprietor.

new proprietor. Mr. Coltrane, Mr. Harman and Mr. Gelderman remaining to take places in his employ.

It is not often that a surprise party can be successfully sprung after it has been announced in "the paper," but such was the case with a pleasant little affair given last evening at the Gilton home in El Modena in honor of Harold and Norma Gleason. The little item in the local column escaped the eye of the Gleasons and the surprise was a complete success after all. The evening was spent with games and a wienie bake, the latter being followed later by refreshments of ice cream and cake. Norma and Harold were each presented with a handsome picture of their friends, about a dozen of whom were present.

The A. B. Tiffany residence property at the corner of South Glassell street and Almond avenue was sold today to Miss Sarah and Miss Mary Lush. The purchasers are from San Diego and came here to visit several weeks ago. They were much charmed with the city and finally decided to invest in local property.

SOME FINE PEACHES

Anaheim Plain Dealer: The Trappe brothers have 70 acres in fruit near Buena Park, mostly peaches and plums. They have been shipping the latter for some time and are getting top prices. It is of their peaches, that they are proudest. These brought them the highest price paid in the markets last year, running $1.50 the box in comparison with a general average for other output in the south of 60 cents per box. They have 40 acres in bearing, these being 500 trees of the prime fruit in this. It is a variety of their own development and is known as the McClure Ching. The flavor is high, the fruit solid, seed small and color superb. Average weight is about 1-3 of a pound. This year the trees are heavily laden, the fruit about ready for the market and top prices again in prospect for it.

Real Facts in Regard To F. R. Hoffman's Illness, Relieved by Curing His Stomach Ailments.

Waynesville, N. C.—Mr. F. R. Hoffman, of this city, says: "I suffered dreadfully with what I thought was heart trouble, and tried various medicines in vain.

After other remedies had failed, Theodore's Black-Draught restored me to health. I would not feel safe without Black-Draught in the house. I consider it worth its weight in gold.

It cured my indigestion, and by this means I was restored to health. I can not express my gratitude for its benefits."

Good health depends on the condition of your digestion. Poor digestion and good health do not go together.

Theodore's Black-Draught will thoroughly cleanse and set in order your digestive system.

It has done this for others, during the past 70 years, and is today the most popular vegetable liver remedy on the market. Try it.

The "Other Side" of the Question of Investments

Editor Register:—I have read with much interest the article in your issue of July 26th, entitled "The Blue Sky Bogger," by Mr. W. A. Zimmerman; and your editorial under the heading, "Law Needed." This also calls to my mind other editorials in your valuable publication and some replies thereto by your local constituency.

Your correspondent is quite right that there is need for laws governing and controlling the offering of investments to the public—probably it would be more true if I should say there is urgent need for the enforcement of present laws, as the district attorney of this county and many other able legal advisers hold that the statutes of California contain sufficient provision along this line—only lacking enforcement. The institution with which I am connected has long been on record as favoring regulation of some nature, and as far back as November, 1911, we published in our own paper an article endorsing the enactment of a state law, the purpose of which was to protect the financial interests should be considerably held in check.

Your correspondent is also correct when he makes the bold statement that the banking fraternity are many times used as dupes in order to aid enterprises that later will not stand the closest investigation. I am also aware, and I think you will agree with me, that such aid is frequently bestowed and often for some reason, whatever that consideration may be. There are many salesmen in the country offering stocks and other securities in this and that enterprise which are founded almost wholly upon a prospect. Many times the scheme is a good one, and the promoters thoroughly honest in their belief, but so many things must be taken into consideration before success is assured that the average small investor to take hold of them—at least not until the enterprise was on a sound footing.

There are, however, being presented in all communities opportunities for safe investment in stocks, bonds and good securities of various nature that should receive local encouragement instead of discouragement—and right here I wish to state that when such securities are being offered for sale it should be incumbent upon local business men, and particularly upon financiers and bankers, to investigate these offerings from an impartial standpoint in order that they may give a fair and intelligent reply to inquiries. It is the most natural thing in the world that the average citizen should look upon the banker as possessing all knowledge upon matters of investment, whether he possesses such knowledge or not. However, inasmuch as the banker is looked upon as a guide to the average citizen, it should be incumbent upon him to post himself and be in a position to give an intelligent reply based upon unselfish motives. Such an attitude can very easily be shown to be not only to the interest of the individual, but to the interest of the community at large, as no good has ever come from allowing worthy enterprises, or in discouraging local people from investment therein, from any selfish motive. The reply: "I do not know anything about it," is not sufficient, and only serves to magnify the ignorance of the individual of whom inquiry is made of a project upon which he is expected to

In closing, I want to thank you, Mr. Editor, for your timely editorials regarding the subject of regulation for investments, and to say that this ever come from the fact that the full accord with any movement that will better any condition that may be wrong, as well as for the safeguarding of money invested in all classes of securities.

know something. Therefore, I repeat that local interests demand of him that he take the initiative and familiarize himself with such matters.

As a hard-headed business matter, it is not a better policy for local financial men to encourage and assist those who come from the larger centers of population, offering for sale securities that are as good as any to be found elsewhere? Such encouragement and assistance serves to increase the prestige of the local community, and gives it a stronger financial credit in the larger financial centers. While using the reverse tactics many times has worked serious injury. This injury is frequently experienced when communities adjacent to the large cities are undertaking developments of gigantic projects that require outside capital. In these cases your local financial men immediately start for the large financial centers to market their local securities, and to secure the money needed to develop projects which mean life or death to the community. It should be very apparent that where local assistance is given to outside institutions, and a broad spirit of co-operation has been extended to meritorious enterprises, the assistance needed in such a crucial time is much easier to secure.

It will probably be found true that many hundreds of thousands of dollars go from the large cities every year for investment in lands, irrigation projects, and other developments that mean much to the growth and prosperity of the smaller communities. In fact, it is probably true that for every $25,000 taken out of these smaller communities and carried to the larger cities for investment, fully $100,000 is returned and invested in mortgages, land, orchard and irrigation projects, or the erection of large buildings. Therefore, I repeat, that it is a short-sighted policy for local interests to oppose and discourage local citizens from investing their savings in solvent enterprises simply upon the ground that the money is being taken out of town.

It must be remembered along this line that money seeking investment holds peculiar ideas of its own. It requires two things—security of the principal invested, and, second, it invariably goes where it finds satisfaction on these two points, no matter whether it be a local enterprise, or some distant investment project. But admitting for the sake of argument that these things are equal between a local and the foreign investment, there is always a large percentage of the residents of any community who prefer to make their investments outside, and the reason that they do is that they wish their neighbors and friends to know what investments they hold. There are many other reasons, only known to the individual himself, and the fact that this situation actually exists is ample proof of the statement.

In closing, I want to thank you, Mr. Editor, for your timely editorials regarding the subject of regulation for investments, and to say that this ever come from the fact that the full accord with any movement that will better any condition that may be wrong, as well as for the safeguarding of money invested in all classes of securities.

ADVENTISTS PUT BAN ON TEA, COFFEE, SILKS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—Delegates to the thirteenth annual conference of the Seventh Day Adventists in the closing hours of their session at Glendale passed resolutions prescribing rules of conduct for all true believers.

Not only was the demon rum attacked, but also tea and coffee. All good sisters were warned against the evils of vanity as represented by present day extremes of dress. Silks and satins, high heels and large hats, and above all tight fitting frocks, should be avoided.

Yesterday following the close of the conference the annual camp meeting convened. Daily until the eighteenth services will be held in the big tent auditorium, and in addition there will be regular classes in Sunday school work.

Tomorrow an interesting temperance program will be rendered in which Mrs. Julia D. Phelps, president of the county W. C. T. U.; Pastor W. A. Spicer, Dr. George A. Thomsen and Pastor William M. Healey, will take part. Good music will be rendered by Prof. Paulin of Santa Barbara and the orchestra he has organized since coming to the grounds.

THE CASE OF MR. KIRBY

Congressional Candidate Kirby, who was in Santa Ana this week, has at last been driven into the open. That Mr. Kirby was inclined to try to get Progressive or Roosevelt votes by the constant iteration and re-iteration of the statement that he was "a Progressive Republican within the ranks of the party," is not seriously to be doubted. For a time he sedulously avoided any statement as to his alignment in the presidential fight; and newspaper reports have appeared and personal statements have been made to the effect that Mr. Kirby could not be made to declare himself as between Taft and Roosevelt.

After weeks of hammering by the Progressive papers of the district, Mr. Kirby at last says in his interviews: "I will not bolt the Republican ticket, because I believe that the congressman elected from this district can best serve the interests of the whole district by remaining within the party."

This presentation of Mr. Kirby's case is made in justice to that gentleman and for the correct information of the voters of the district. It is also valuable as evidence of the deceptive character of the Reactionary campaign in general. For instance about two weeks ago there appeared in a Los Angeles Reactionary paper an announcement by Chairman Stanton: "our Phil," by the way—of the so-called "regular" organization that candidates for Congress running under the endorsement of that faction would not be required to say whether they were for Taft or Roosevelt.

"This is plainly a scheme," says the California Outlook, "to deceive the voters of one side or the other. The Progressives, of course, desire to vote for Representatives who will stand with Roosevelt if he is elected, and the Reactionaries naturally wish to support those who are with Taft and his policies. But if the candidate does not declare himself on this, which is the most important of the issues now before the people, the voter can not possibly know whether he is getting what he wants."

"This differs materially from the line of policy adopted by the Progressives in that it contains an attempt at deceit. The Progressives are making an open and public seizure—or rather a retainer—of something to which they lay claim of ownership under a moral right and the known will of a majority. There is no deception anywhere about the performance. It is all out in plain daylight. Those who vote for candidates endorsed by the Progressive committee know what they are getting—they are getting Roosevelt supporters. If they are elected to the Legislature they will nominate Roosevelt presidential electors; if they are chosen for Congress they will help put through Roosevelt policies. They deliberately and openly call themselves Republicans, because they know of no rule either of law or ethics that makes the acceptance of fraud the basis of Republicanism."

"OUR SECOND REVERENCE"

A certain amount of conservatism comes with every added year. The heedless optimism of youth, if persisted in, is an indication of arrested mental development. Our ideals are like a monster toy shop with shelves loaded to the top; not every ideal can be realized, not every toy purchased even if the stroller through the aisles has a magic Fortunatus purse in his pocket.

So it is with manhood. Every individual that amounts to anything soon catches his "second reverence for the things around," soon understands that the scope of his personal influence seldom exceeds the sphere of his actual personal opportunities.

Therefore the conservatism of the full grown man is nothing more than a realization of the fact that the world is wise, that there are certain limits in human nature which were apparently not even straightened in the chaos of the divine mind, that the loftiest altruism is in the end based upon love of self and measured by the fundamental standard of the quid pro quo.

of no human making.
After all, the best that a man can do is to act as guide in the darkness to those that will harken to his call.

DECEPTIVE CAMPAIGNING

This thing of reactionary candidates posing or being posed by others, as Progressives seems to be giving trouble all along the line. As was said in this paper the other day, there is no reliable evidence that either Mr. Chapman or Mr. Rutan is guilty of any deception or attempted deception in this respect—indeed, both of these candidates are outspoken and frank in their allegiance to Taft. But certainly somebody is trying to gain Roosevelt votes for Taft candidates. Reports to that effect are persistent in this county, and now comes the Riverside Press with the same story as to the doings in Riverside county. The Press says:

"Visitors to Riverside from the Coachella valley section within the last day or two report that appeals are being made there for the voters to support Chapman and Milliken on the ground that they are Progressives."

"Is Taft a Progressive? is Frank A. Miller a Progressive? is George M. Pearson a Progressive? That question will be answered with a smile. Well, Chapman and Milliken in this campaign are to be classed in the same group. They are for Taft and all he represents and they are backed by Miller, Pearson and other active representatives of the old railroad machine in this county. If nominated, they will vote for Taft electors at the state convention in Sacramento in September."

"After being snowed under so completely in the recent presidential primary, the Taft people in this county re-organized their club under the name of the Chapman and Milliken club, evidently hoping people would forget about Taft. The very same people, however, are active in the organization who are active in trying to carry the primary in this county for Taft instead of Roosevelt; and they represent exactly the same things they did then. They may possibly fool a few people by this change of name and by talking about the progressiveness of their candidates for senate and assembly, but the voters generally will get wise before September 3."

Of course everybody who is at all posted knows that in this county it is the men who supported Taft in the presidential primaries in which he was so badly beaten that are now behind the candidacy of Chapman and Rutan.

In this connection it may be noted that, unlike Mr. Chapman and Mr. Rutan—who are outspoken Taft men—Congressional Candidate Kirby, who is being supported by the stand-pat lead-

BRYAN, LA FOLLETTE AND HEARST AS "ORIGINATORS" OF MORAL IDEAS

The chief objection that Messrs. La Follette and Bryan have to offer to Theodore Roosevelt is that his progressive ideas are not original with him but were "stolen" from them. Whether these two own them by a kind of partnership arrangement, or whether Bryan saw them first or La Follette first is yet an open question.

In the South Sea Islands, when the chief battles in the ocean, the great water is then taboo on everybody else for a whole day. If he eats a certain kind of melon or fish, nobody is allowed to feed on that variety of food for a time. The Bryan-La Follette idea seems to be related to this. If Mr. Bryan writes a piece in his paper advocating justice to all men, he thereby holds a patent or a taboo on that idea, and if Colonel Roosevelt or anybody else advocates the same thing, he is guilty of stealing.

This puts a new handicap on the statesman. He is not to propose a policy unless it is original with him and no one else ever thought of it. Lloyd George, for example, had no right to bring in his famous budget, taxing the increment of value on land, because the Henry George people have long been urging that revenue be raised by that method. As a matter of fact, however, the single taxers all over the world, instead of reviling Lloyd George as a plagiarist, have acclaimed him the greatest statesman of his time. What is the difference between them and the worthies who are distressed over ers in San Diego and elsewhere, and who when forced to it admits that he is a Taft man, always speaks of himself as "a Progressive Republican within the party ranks." Mr. Kirby would command more respect and, we believe, get more votes by being more frank and sincere.

Building permits in San Diego for the present year have already passed the $5,000,000 mark. For the entire year of 1911 the total was $5,700,000. It is confidently expected that the total this year will be $7,500,000 and may pass the $8,000,000 mark. It is the greatest year in building in the history of the city.

E. R. Amerige of Fullerton writes the Register from Sitka, Alaska. He says he polled the passengers on the steamer, going up, and the vote gave Roosevelt two to one over Taft and as many as all other presidential candidates combined.

Building permits in Long Beach for the year to August 1, amounted to $1,602,383. This is a gain of over $500,000 over last year. The prospects are that the total for the year will exceed $2,000,000.

Miss Helen Gould says of the Y. M. C. A.: "I am glad to say that I consider the Young Men's Christian Association one of the finest movements with which I have been in touch, and one that is worthy of the fullest endorsement and co-operation."

G. Stanley Hall, LL. D., president of Clark University, says: "I love and honor this association, because it marked particularly first recognition in Christendom of the true meaning and value of youth."

David Starr Jordan, LL. D., president of Leland Stanford University, speaks of the Y. M. C. A. thus: "The Young Men's Christian Association is, in its essential quality, a great insurance arrangement for the preservation of young men. It saves them from idleness, from folly, from vice, from the temptations to graft, from embezzlement and ultimate moral collapse which naturally follow the yielding to minor temptations."

"The merchants of a city could well afford to support this institution even solely as a matter of selfish interest. It gives them more industrious clerks and saner, sounder and more trustworthy helpers than they could otherwise have. Leaving out of the question altogether the religious aspects of Christian association work, it is impossible to estimate the good the association does in saving and in rationalizing the leisure of young men."

"I do not believe in running into debt and I think that debt should be avoided by men and by institutions. But in this regard the Christian association is distinctly an exception. It is legitimate for it to erect its necessary buildings, banking on the appreciation by the business men of their necessity to them. Its expenses are a legitimate charge on the commercial interests of the city, and when its affairs are in proper hands these interests rarely fail to respond."

Thompsons continue to bring $40, which is considered a very good opening price. According to reports which were made today there is some mildew in the Thompson vines, due to continued sultry weather of the past few days, though not yet in serious quantity.

WHEN REPUBLICAN PARTY WAS BORN

William Pitt Kellogg Tells of Bloomington Convention.

ONE OF THE FEW SURVIVORS.

Appointed Louisiana Collector by Lincoln on the Day Before the President Was Assassinated—Has Attended Many National Conventions.

William Pitt Kellogg, formerly governor of Louisiana and Abraham Lincoln's old friend, related recently some of the incidents of the so called Bloomington convention of 1854, in which the Republican party was born. He is one of the few survivors of the 226 delegates from Illinois who attended that convention. Some say there are only two of these delegates besides Mr. Kellogg living.

Abraham Lincoln was one of the delegates. It was at this assembly that he first gained prominence as a public speaker. It was there that he delivered what has come to be known as his "lost speech"—lost because there were no stenographers to take it down and because the newspaper reporters were so entranced by the flow of words that they neglected to take notes.

The Bloomington convention, it will be recalled, developed from a gathering of Illinois editors at Decatur on Feb. 22, 1854. This meeting of editors, who were opposed to slavery, had been called for the purpose of agreeing on a line of policy to be pursued in the campaign the following year. Of this group of editors Paul Selby, now of Chicago and who at that time edited the Jacksonville Journal, is the only survivor. Abraham Lincoln was a guest and assisted in preparing the resolutions which recommended the state convention in Bloomington.

Building Still Stands.

This convention of 1854 was not known as Republican, but as "anti-Nebraskan." Its origin was founded chiefly upon the Kansas-Nebraska bill, which repealed the Missouri compromise and thereby removed the restriction against the introduction of slavery into the territory north of the parallel of 36 degrees and 30 minutes. Anti-slavery Democrats and anti-slavery Whigs both were attracted to this so called anti-Nebraskan convention. It wasn't until a year or two later that the name Republican began to be substituted for "anti-Nebraskan."

"The convention of 1854," said Mr. Kellogg, "was held in Macons hall, a two story building that is standing to this day. The ground floor was occupied by two stores, and we delegates marched up a little narrow stairway at the rear to a room on the second floor. The call was for 226 delegates, but the interest was so intense that almost twice that number appeared."

"I was chairman of the Fulton county delegation, and Mr. Lincoln was chairman of the Sangamon county delegation."

Mr. Kellogg recalled that it was in this "lost speech" that Lincoln delivered the famous epigram, "You can fool all of the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

Mr. Kellogg was an alternate to the national convention held in Philadelphia in 1858, which nominated Fremont. He has attended every Republican national convention since then up until 1904. He is eighty-two years old and is still active physically and mentally.

How He Went to Louisiana.
An interesting story has been told of how Mr. Kellogg came to go from the north down into Louisiana in the reconstruction days. When Mr. Lincoln was elected the second time Mr. Kellogg was chief justice of Nebraska. He had gone on to Washington to see President Lincoln inaugurated the second time, and Lincoln called him to the White House and told him he had decided to make him collector in Louisiana.

"That," said Mr. Kellogg, "was on Thursday, the day before Mr. Lincoln was assassinated. Mr. Lincoln insisted I should start for New Orleans on Saturday and ordered that the commission should be made out at once."

Mr. Kellogg called at the White House on Friday morning and obtained his commission and received the well wishes of President Lincoln. He had bought two tickets for Ford's theater that night, intending to go to the performance with Richard Yates of Illinois, father of the present Yates of that name and then a United States senator. Mr. Kellogg, however, got mixed up with some of his friends who insisted on celebrating his appointment to the collectorship. The result was he missed the show, but Senator Yates went.

"Late in the evening," said Mr. Kellogg, "I was in my room, No. 12, at the old National hotel, when Yates rushed in as pale as death and cried, 'My God, the president has been shot!'"

"The next day we stood in the drizzle with the other sorrowing thousands and saw the president's body borne from the house in Tench street where he had died. The next two days as I tramped the streets with my freshly signed commission in my pocket were among the saddest I have experienced."

DAY NURSERY

The Report For July Indicates the Interest in the Institution

(Contributed.)

During a recent visit at the nursery the children were very proud to show their wonderful hammock swing, given by Mr. Perkins, all painted red, and in which they take wonderful journeys by boat, car and airship. I also heard the children sing some of their songs and saw the two tubs of building blocks donated by Dr. Waffle. It is more interesting to the children to "build" something for themselves and so these blocks are new each morning. A few days ago a gentleman was driving by the nursery and was attracted by the children playing tea dressed in newspaper dresses and, after watching the assistant and children some time he stepped to the door and asked Mrs. Jones if she could use $5 for the "those kids," and she said she could and he handed her the money. She asked him to whom she must give credit for it, and he said, "just charge it to cash."

The children have good care and instruction. Two meals are served them. The table was set. It contained brown bread, milk, two vegetables, gravy, fruit and melons. The children sang several songs for me. They have a quiet time with a story and many of the younger ones take a nap each afternoon. The hammock comes in useful for that. We wish to acknowledge and extend thanks for the following donations: Pies, the Dragon; canned fruit and lemons, Mrs. D. Head; blackberries, Mrs. Lucy Harlin; clothing, Mrs. John Tubbs, Mr. Collins, Miss Norman, Mrs. Potter, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. E. L. Morrison, Mrs. J. T. Houghton, Mrs. H. Yellow predominated in the table decorations at the prettily-appointed dinner. A bowl of golden glow graced the center of the table and the place cards bore a single, hand-painted flower and leaf of the same brilliant flower.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. M. Turner, Miss Velda Turner, Mrs. Susan Mullins, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Brounridge, Miss Florence Mullins, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Skidmore and Florence Skidmore of Downey.

After dinner the party saw Kolb & Dill in "Peck o' Pickles" at the Grand Opera House.

Leaves For Southern Home
Miss Sallie Hawell leaves Monday for her home in Plainview, Texas. Miss Hawell came to Santa Ana four years ago to benefit her health. She has been one of the popular members of a company of girls who conducted a Co-operative Home at 702 North Spurgeon street, chaperoned by Miss Linda Paul.

Miss Hawell is a gifted musician and her return to her former home necessitates giving up a large music class worked up since regaining her health.

Miss Hawell is a member of the Philathea class of the First Baptist Sunday school and will be missed in this circle as well as in many others where her sweet and winning ways have won her many friends.

Luncheon For Friend
Mrs. E. S. Wallace, who will soon leave for Wichita, Kansas, to make her home, was the complimented guest at a pretty 1 o'clock luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. O. K. Forgy in her room in the Richmond House.

Pink amaryllis were employed in a beautiful centerpiece, and pink was also seen in several of the delicious viands served during the courses.

Traveling grips decorated the hand-painted place cards, which marked covers for the guests of honor, Mrs. E. S. Wallace; Mesdames C. S. Forgy, Horatio Forgy, Frank Remsburg, T. A. Winbigger, Fred Ross and Ella Fyfe.

Choral Society to Begin Again
The Santa Ana Choral Society, under the direction of Alan A. Revill, which closed last season with the cantata "Ruth," will re-commence in the middle of September. Mr. Revill gives all the old members a hearty welcome back and will be glad to have a few more, though the membership will be strictly limited. There are no dues, the only expense being the individual purchase of music required, the society being formed for the pleasure and musical benefit derived therefrom.

Mrs. West and Miss Ada West will accompany Judge West to San Francisco. Miss West is to enter the University of California at Berkeley. They left this afternoon.

Held Hay Ride and Barn Party

The "Y's" gave a hay ride last evening which proved a very jolly affair. They met at the home of the president, Miss Willia Cleverger, 505 East Fifth street, and went in a big hay wagon to the Brooks home near Tustin. Jay and Verna Brooks, who are both members of the "Y," had turned the Brooks barn into a place of beauty with the aid of pepper bough and wicker lanterns which were suspended from the ceiling. Hay arranged around the sides of the barn were used as seats and rustic games were played. The young people who numbered more than thirty, later gathered around a camp fire in the yard to enjoy a "wienie bake" and hot buns. Miss Verna Brooks also served fruitade and perfection wafers. The ride back to town brought the happy evening to a close.

DeReef, who has been with the First church since Easter Sunday, April 7, and although less than six months from the East (Brooklyn, N. Y.), is as loyal and enthusiastic a Californian as a native son.

Music and the Drama

A Grand Free Entertainment

To better acquaint the Santa Ana public with the work of the College of Music of Santa Ana, there will be given a grand free entertainment and musicale in the Temple Theater on Tuesday night, Sept. 24. The program will consist of vocal and instrumental numbers, selected readings, artistic whistling, etc., in which the various instructors and soloists of note, of the college, will take part. Great credit has been given to the arranging of the program, which will be unlike anything ever presented in Santa Ana. To some few, the College of Music of Santa Ana may be unknown. In any event, it should receive the careful consideration of all, as it is a school where the individual receives the most careful attention. On entrance, a diagnosis is made of the individual's needs. A course of treatment is outlined by the head of the department and the pupil is assigned to a teacher especially adapted to his requirements. The director's work does not stop here, for daily reports are made of the progress. Daily supervision prevents mistakes and shows how to work. Once each month a pupils' recital is given in the Temple Theater, the home of the College of Music of Santa Ana, and the following departments will be found: Piano, voice, organ, violin, violoncello, harmony, training department, for teachers of music in public schools, orchestral instruments, double bass, obol, flute, cornet, French horn, trombone, bassoon, clarinet; ensemble classes, chamber music, special class work, elementary classes, sight singing, etc.; history of music, school of elocution and acting, lectures on the voice, diction and stage department, school of opera, chorus department, orchestral department, counterpoint composition, instrumentation, orchestration, score reading; also Vienna zither, mandolin, and artistic whistling. All of the above departments will be presided over by the very best instructors from the various music centers of the country, and as a whole, the college will at all times be under the watchful care and management of Mrs. Dr. A. M. Roberts. One of the most important features of this school is the fact that it possesses its own theater (The Temple Theater), which is listed among the representative theaters of Southern California, and is modern in every respect, being constructed of concrete; is fire-proof, is on the ground floor, provided with ample exits; seating capacity of 1000, while the acoustics are unsurpassed. The stage is 50 feet in breadth, thoroughly equipped with sets of scenery and appliances to make possible professional performances by our pupils. Fall and winter term begins Sept. 24. Write or call for further particulars.

Six New Professors For State University

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Aug. 10.—Six newly appointed full professors will come to Berkeley as heads of various departments on August 16, when the University of California opens its doors for the new university year.

The military department will now be headed by Major J. T. Nance. Every able-bodied native-born boy who enters the University of California drills throughout his freshman and sophomore years. Twice or three times a week for two years he has practical exercise on the drill-ground and parade-ground, and once a week theoretical instruction in military science and tactics. Juniors and Seniors who have shown special aptitude for command continue in the military department as lieutenants and captains. There is keen rivalry to graduate with the coveted commissions of colonel, lieutenant-colonel, or major in the University Cadets. There are over 1250 men under arms. To the leadership of this important department now comes Major John Torrence Nance of the Second Cavalry, U. S. A. He succeeds Major Edward M. Lewis of the Sixteenth Infantry, U. S. A., who for four years past has been the highly efficient and successful head of this department, but who is now obliged by army regulations to return to service with his regiment. Major Nance was Commandant at the University of California from 1904 to 1908, bringing the military department to a high standard of excellence.

The new head of the important department of chemistry, Gilbert N. Lewis, (recently Research Professor of Chemistry in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology), having joined with Professor Edmund O'Neill, Director of the Chemical Laboratory, in pointing out that a chemistry building for 500 students is now used by 1500, some measure of relief has been given by the erection of a small three-story wooden laboratory, for advanced students, east of the present building, and by the building also of a reinforced concrete fireproof lecture hall, seating 500 people, especially designed for scientific lectures. This hall has very convenient arrangements for illustrating lectures by experiments, charts, lantern slides, specimens, etc. The department gives laboratory instruction to all the students of mining, civil, electrical, mechanical, sanitary, hydraulic and irrigation engineering, agriculture, medicine, the natural sciences, etc., besides training specialists for careers as chemists and chemical engineers.

The new Professor of Music, Chas. L. Seeger, has announced a general introductory course intended to develop understanding and appreciation of music, and dealing with the development of music—historical and technical. He will give, also, courses in harmony and in counterpoint. A notable feature of his work will be a course in "musicianship" planned for individuals who possess exceptional vocal or instrumental technique, or whose musical knowledge is sufficient to prepare them for advanced work in theory, criticism, composition, or conducting. Professor Seeger is himself a composer of published music, and has had American and European experience as a conductor. Paul Steindorff, of long experience as conductor of opera, orchestra director, and choral leader, will conduct the large University Chorus and the student orchestra.

Professor H. Morse Stevens having resigned the Directorship of University Extension, after ten years' service, to give his whole time to his duties as head of the Department of History and Secretary of the Academy of Pacific Coast History, now Ira W. Horner of the University of Chicago, newly appointed Professor of Education, will serve as Director of University Extension. Professor Horner's first University Extension work will be done in San Francisco, where he will give a course on "Society and Education." His aim is to develop in all ways possible a helpful relation of the University to students without its gates, through lecture courses, study clubs, and co-operation with various other intellectual activities of the community. At the University itself, he will give courses on "The Sociological Conception of Education," "The Psychological Basis of Secondary Education," and "School Organization and Administration."

The two other new professors are F. R. Marshall, who comes from the Ohio State University to be Professor of Animal Industries, and Dr. Thomas Forsyth Hunt, now Director of the State College of Agriculture of Pennsylvania, whose appointment to the important post of Dean of the College of Agriculture and Director of the Agricultural Experiment Station was announced by President Wheeler last month.

Present indications are that this year's freshman class will be larger by one-tenth than last year's. Last August 1045 freshmen were admitted. Registration day for freshmen, and for other new students admitted to advanced or graduate standing, will be Friday, August 16, Monday, August 19, is registration day for returning students. Instruction will begin the following day.

Last year's total registration in the University of California of 6390 students, (including the Summer Session but excluding duplicates, University Extension students, auditors, students in agriculture short courses, etc.) is certain to be much exceeded.

Our stock of Plumbing Goods is the most complete of any in the county.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Quinces are coming on the market in quantities sufficient to make them quotable. They are one of the lesser known fruits grown in this section of the country, which make the finest preserves, and when canned have one of the most agreeable flavors of any fruit that can be put up. The demand for them is light in this section, for the reason that the art of home canning, according to the commission dealers and retail merchants, is gradually becoming a forgotten one. The price on quinces is $1.25 a box on the best stock.

Pears are down, and the arrivals of this fruit have been growing heavier right along. Bartlett's are about the only variety which are enjoying the present popularity for the fruit, and are selling up to $1.35 a box. There were no changes in the market on peaches, which are selling as low as 60 cents a lug, and up to $1.35, according to variety. Plums remain plentiful and low. Berries are slightly higher, and none of the various kind are plentiful.

The staple market is practically without a change. The demand for eggs was fair, and the market was firm on arrivals of only 167 cases. Butter receipts were 19,198 pounds, the lowest receipts of the week. Trading was sluggish in the commodity. Some northern fresh cheese moved at the prevailing jobbers' price, 15 cents a pound, which is only fractionally above the San Francisco market, and represents the difference in the freight rate. Receipts were 1356 pounds.

Potato receipts were 881 sacks. The demand for spuds was slow and prices featureless. Bean arrivals were 492 sacks, some of them being of the pre-war harvest. There were no onions or sweet potatoes reported in.

Bicycle Sold at Mission Town is One Stolen From Tom Karas of Santa Ana

The officers are fully satisfied that John Nodler stole the bicycle he sold at San Juan Capistrano. Tom Karas, proprietor of a bootblack stand on East Fourth street, has described the bicycle so well that there is no doubt but what his bicycle is the one sold by Nodler for $10. The convincing point in the matter is that Nodler claims that he bought the bicycle two hours earlier than it was stolen from Karas. Nodler earnestly assured the officers that he bought it for $8.

From a pawn ticket in Nodler's pocket, the police are satisfied that Nodler has been making a business of bicycle stealing. They have an excellent case against him, but as yet have been unable to dig up anything of a bad record.

Gilman is Gone
This morning Constable Heard went to the residence of H. H. Gilman to serve a summons on him in connection with a civil suit brought against him in Los Angeles for payment on a suit of clothes bought on installment. Heard found that Gilman is in Seattle and that his wife and children were starting for Seattle today. Mrs. Gilman had less than $4 in money on which to make the trip. Gilman was in trouble in Los Angeles several months ago over some bad checks passed by him, and was given probation at that time.

Were Found Guilty

Miguel Rios was the principal witness today against Adrin Aleala, D. Melgosa and Juan Gutierrez, all of Delhi. Rios had hired some musicians to serenade his house. He was taking them to the home of a friend, Martinez, when the defendants and Antonio Arday tried to crowd in. A row ensued, and resulted in Juan Reyes, a friend of Rios, being shot through the leg by Arday. The three men on trial were found guilty of disturbing the peace, and are to be sentenced on Monday.

SALVATION ARMY
HAS ESTABLISHED
ANAHEIM OUTPOST

Through the kindness of Mr. Talcott, who has given the Salvation Army the use of his horse and rig, Capt. Sochon has been able to considerably extend his field of operations. Outposts will be opened at once at Anaheim and Orange. The most important of these outposts will be in the former city. A hall has already been placed at the disposal of the army for meetings, and judging by the crowd at Thursday's open air meeting, and the interest taken, there is no reason why there should not be a useful branch of the work at Anaheim. Regular meetings will be held. This has been made possible by headquarters sending additional help for the captain. There are soldiers living in these districts who will help in the meetings.

A very unfortunate occurrence happened at Anaheim on Thursday. When Capt. Sochon and his assistants went to pack up to return to Santa Ana, they found that someone has stolen an overcoat, steamer rug, whip and halter. Up to the present there has been no trace of the stolen goods.

The outpost work of the Salvation Army is worked on a self-supporting basis, in whatever town the outpost is established.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Determined to secure action on his resolution directing the Attorney-General to prosecute criminally the defendants in the Oil and Tobacco trust suits, Senator Pomerene, of Ohio, denounced the dilatory tactics of the Senate judiciary committee in the Senate today. He moved to take the matter from the committee and consider it on the floor. Chairman Clark explained that the committee's work has been so heavy that reporting on the resolution as yet is impossible. The matter was carried over.

MAN WITHOUT MEMORY
GOES TO SANITARIUM

PASADENA, Aug. 10.—Frank Spoon, who suffered a loss of memory and who has been held in custody on a charge of child abandonment, appeared this morning before Judge Dunham, who dismissed the charge on the promise of Spoon's sister that her brother will be taken to a sanitarium. Spoon's plea to Judge Dunham was pitiful. With tear-dimmed eyes he begged that he be taken some place where he might be cured of his ailment.

Spoon's sister appeared in the courtroom with him. He accepts her as his sister because he has been told she is such. Photographs of his children, his wife and of himself have been shown to Spoon, but they fail to awaken recollection of the past. Deputy District Attorney Bell made the motion which gave Spoon his freedom.

LARGE PRODUCTION OF MINERAL WATER

Nearly 70,000,000 Gallons Sold in the United States in 1911, Valued at $7,875,373.

In 1911 67,527,822 gallons of mineral waters were sold in the United States, valued at $7,875,373. Of this large amount 63,923,119 gallons, valued at $6,837,888, were of domestic production, and 3,604,703 gallons, valued at $1,037,485, were imported. The average price of the domestic water at the springs was 10.7 cents a gallon and that of the imported water was 20.8 cents a gallon, to which must be added for the imported water freight, commissions and import duty.

The domestic production in 1911 compared with that in 1910 showed an increase of 1,832,904 gallons and $480,298 in value. The product in 1911 was derived from 732 springs. New York state led in the quantity of water sold, with 10,245,261 gallons, bringing an average price of nine cents a gallon, or a total value of $939,002; but Wisconsin, with an output of 5,716,162 gallons, produced the greatest value, namely, $955,988, or an average of 17 cents a gallon.

The highest average price received in any state was in Indiana—60 cents a gallon—the production being 1,084,428 gallons. The high price was due to the medicinal reputation of the waters. Maine received an average of 34 cents a gallon and produced 1,254,783 gallons. The lowest average prices received were in Minnesota and Oklahoma—3 cents a gallon—the production of Minnesota being 8,703,319 gallons, second only to that of New York.

The statistics of production of mineral waters by states and a description of the numerous springs are discussed by George C. Matson of the United States Geological Survey in an advance chapter just issued on the "Production of Mineral Waters," from the volume, Mineral Resources of the United States for 1911, which also includes a scientific paper on the "Concentration of Mineral Water in Relation to Therapeutic Activity," by R. B. Dole.

Not the Shoes' Fault
This incident had never happened at all because it's so terrible, but it did happen, and this is a newspaper, of course. So the bad news and the good must both be printed.

The two girls were talking to the man. And the man said, in order to make conversation:
"I notice that Miss Blinks is limping this evening. Has she sprained her ankle?"

"No," said the first girl, smiling. "Her shoes are too small for her—don't you think so?"

"Nothing of the kind!" answered the second girl. "How can you say such a thing? Her shoes aren't a bit too small—they're the biggest size made. It isn't her fault. Her feet are too large—that's all!"

"As well as you do."

"Then I won't buy him. To compel him to share the responsibility for the way I play it would be cruelty to animals."—Washington Star.

Man Who Ran Over Trickey
Had Been Working For
Kennedy For Two Years

Frightened Over Occurrence
He Left Place and Has Not Been Located

The automobile that struck Ellis Trickey at the north end of the North Main street bridge Thursday night was driven by an old man named Charles Walters. Fearful of the consequences of the accident, Walters drove the automobile to Henry Kennedy's home at Orange, put it in the garage, and left. He has not been seen since.

Henry Kennedy owns the automobile. Thursday night Kennedy and his wife were in Los Angeles. A neighbor, H. Munnall, went to Kennedy's place to see if Kennedy would not take Munnall's daughter to Santa Ana to catch a car to Huntington Beach. Munnall found Walters, who has been working for Kennedy for about two years, at home, and he persuaded Walters to take Kennedy's automobile from the garage and drive it to Santa Ana. It was while returning from Santa Ana that Walters ran over Trickey.

Walters was tramping through the country when Kennedy first gave him work two years ago. The old man has been on the place ever since. When Kennedy returned home yesterday afternoon he first learned of the accident. Walters was not to be found about the place, and as yet Kennedy and Deputy Sheriff Squires have been unable to locate him.

The automobile had one lamp torn off by the collision, and was otherwise damaged. Trickey's motorcycle was badly wrecked, and Trickey sustained severe bruises and cuts.

NEXT MEETING IS

At the district quarterly meeting of the Free Methodist church yesterday the services continued to increase in interest and attendance throughout the day.

In the evening Rev. W. C. Graves of Pomona preached from Psalm 37:8. He called upon the Christian people to awake from their lethargy, and for the unsave to awaken to their danger and seek their souls' salvation.

At this morning's session Rev. R. C. Johnson was re-elected secretary and treasurer. The reports of the pastors showed an encouraging condition of the work in the district. The next district meeting was voted to be at Pomona.

This afternoon the Women's Foreign Missionary Society held their business meeting for the district. Rev. M. C. Roll, pastor at Garden Grove, will preach this evening. It is expected that tomorrow will be a time of splendid meetings. The love feast will begin at 10 a. m., followed by preaching by the district elder, Rev. J. E. Cochran. The afternoon service will be a missionary meeting and will commence at 2:30 p. m. Rev. W. C. Graves, pastor at Pomona, will preach in the evening.
